» Itzehoer Driver Protection

If drivers are injured or even killed when at fault in an accident, they have no claims against their own motor vehicle liability insurance.

The driver protection policy fills this gap. It essentially protects drivers from many of the financial consequences of an accident as if they had not caused the accident themselves. For example, compensation is rendered for lost earnings or the costs of necessary reconstruction conversion measures.

Your benefits at a glance

- + Insured sum of €15 million
- + Assumption of costs such as compensation for pain and suffering, loss of earnings, necessary reconstruction work and maintenance payments for the driver
- + Protection in the event of accidents with and without the involvement of others, even if the person who caused the accident is unknown or is destitute
- + Expert emergency services support your speedy recovery – for up to three years within the Federal Republic of Germany.
- + Coverage for rental car and carsharing drivers too!

» Itzehoer discount protection for drivers ages 23 years and up / under 23

Discount protection protects your no-claims (SF) class after an accident. In other words: It protects you from being downgraded in the event of a claim and keeps your insurance premium from increasing.

- + The contract will not be downgraded for the first claim reported in the insurance year. This applies to both vehicle liability insurance and fully comprehensive insurance.
- + The contract will remain claims-free and will even be upgraded in the following year.

» Itzehoer cover abroad

- ✓ The rules can be different abroad: Not only road traffic regulations, but also insurance coverage. Coverage amounts in other countries are often lower than they are in Germany and liability claims may vary.

This may mean that getting in an accident outside the country in which the other party is at fault may leave you worse off financially than you would have been if the accident had happened in Germany.

This is where the cover abroad comes into play: this supplementary module fills in this gap in coverage. The accident victim will be compensated as if the other party had vehicle liability insurance with Itzehoer. We will render compensation for the personal injury and property damage.

» Supplementary module: Brake, operating and breakage damage

If your vehicle suffers damage during use that has no external effect according to the definition of an accident, there will be no insurance cover under the usual comprehensive insurance. Be on the safe side and add brake, operating and breakage damage to your comprehensive cover now.

Brake damages

These occur when the braking process causes the load to slip and/or trailer to skid. This can damage the driver's cab and the drop sides without there having to have been an accident, such as damage from jack-knifing (when the trailer turns sideways and collides with the vehicle from braking too hard).

Breakage damages

Caused by overstraining, design or material defects, such as when vehicle parts like axles or wheel suspensions break outside of the warranty period.

Operating damages

These are not caused by accidents, but by the special use of a vehicle, such as during use on construction sites, but also by operating or driving errors or failure of measuring, control or safety devices, such as the engine hood popping open.

But safety is always a priceless companion, even on the most adventurous journeys.

Whether you are passionate about camping or just want to get away from everyday life once in a while: Car insurance for your camping vehicle not only offers you protection from unforeseeable events such as accidents, extreme weather or theft, it also lets you dedicate your full concentration to your trip.

Our top three arguments for your camper coverage:

- + Attractive special classifications for your camping vehicle

» Protective coating against hail damage

More security and protection while saving on premiums

Itzehoer Versicherungen has been offering a contract deal for camping vehicles since September 2023. In it, policyholders will receive a premium reduction if they have their camping vehicle protected by Dynamic Hail Repair & Protection from AkzoNobel.

Storm damage, especially from hail, is the most common cause of damage to camping vehicles. The system has been tested by TÜV-Rheinland and certified for hail resistance class 2 (hailstone diameter 20-25 mm). Accordingly, it demonstrably prevents 70 % of all conventional hail damage events.

Here's how it works:

Call CaravanSN (Monday to Friday from 9am to 5pm on 02251 8130010) and they will put you in touch with the right workshop. You can get a quote for protective coating from the workshop and have our agency on site calculate your personal premium reduction for your camping vehicle contract!
